WINS "MILLIONAIRE KID"

WEDS BYRON CHANDLER IN PARIS
Byron Chandler, now 49, known for years as the "millionaire kid from Manchester, N. H." has just married Gene West, a Brooklyn dancer, in Paris. She is 19 and his fourth wife.

George Harvey, Good Friend.
To California $50.
Carefree Wall Street.
Pray Here, Also.
—By Arthur Brisbane—

His life satisfied him from the early days at Pershing, N. H. where he won his little voice suit, trimmed with heavy brass to the day when President Harding sent him as ambassador to London.

Joseph Pulitzer first discovered his ability and made him managing editor of his newspaper. Harvey had power to get made and lead other men.

Breaking the record from the Pacific to the Atlantic in 11 hours and 38 minutes, Glavin used 300 gallons of gasoline and 20 gallons of oil. The trip for himself and Harry Tucker, his passenger and banker, cost about $100, or $50 a passenger. The trip was made well inside of one day, instead of taking four nights, as by train.

That should make railroad owners think, as many as 100 think.

British railroads are bothered by motor bus competition, compelling the roads to cut rates. They have no 3000-mile stretches there.

What do you think flying machines will do to transcontinental air passenger traffic?

Wall Street evidently isn't expecting trouble, no matter who wins the election.

The banks called $100,000 of loans yesterday and money was lent at 1 1/2 per cent, which is usury in self-respecting states.

NEVERTHELESS, PRICES WENT UP, AND THEY SHOW SIGNS OF CONTINUING TO GO UP.

Don't let this encourage you to gamble, but let it save you from the supreme folly, which is selling this country short.

FIRE BUG IMPERILS FOUR

Only the short arms of Pasquale Micholino of Malden st. Revere, saved his home, his wife and his four children from a firebug early today.

The attempt to burn the Micholino home was balked when the husband and father, hearing a noise on the front veranda, ran down stairs in time to hear the sound of running feet on the pavement of Malden st.

Two cars, filled with kerosene and with wicks protruding from the necks, were on the veranda, according to Micholino.

The firebug was against the word walls of the cottage and would have ignited the building within a few minutes after being lighted.

Micholino notified the Revere police, who in turn notified the fire department and State Fire Inspector Edward Horrigan.

After an investigation Horrigan declared it was evident an attempt had been made to burn the Micholino home.

An attempt will be made to obtain fingerprints from the kerosene cans.

LID CLAMPED DOWN ON ALBANY'S SPEAKEASIES
Albany, N. Y., Aug. 22 (INS).—The lid was clamped down on every speakeasy in Albany today. Because of reports that 100 Federal agents had been sent here to stage spectacular raids while Governor Smith was formally accepting the Democratic presidential nomination on the steps of the Capitol.

The city was wet today, but it was a dry contractor to union workmen, for tonight.

JUDGE TERMS 'BOSSY' GILLIS 'OUTLAW,' GIVES HIM JAIL AND $1140 FINE

Newburyport, Aug. 22.—Mayor Andrew J. ("Bossy") Gillis was sentenced today in Newburyport court to 330 days in the House of Correction and fined a total of $1140.

The sentence and fine were imposed after Gillis, termed "an outlaw" by Judge N. N. Jones, had been found guilty in 11 counts on charges of illegally storing gasoline, illegally selling gasoline and violating city ordinances by removing sidewalks and changing street levels.

"Bossy" produced a weak defense about through his means of opening and operating a gasoline filling station at High st. and the Newburyport turnpike.

What a sordid ride, exclaimed the elderly, red-headed mayor when he had taken appeal and had emerged into the open air. "Boy, oh, boy, what a bookcase!"

"Bossy" posed in all positions for the cameramen, meanwhile keeping up an intermittent chattering.

Two strikes on one-two strikes!" he exclaimed. "But I guess I've counted three bulls. I've given them a gallop. Three and two, you know photographers, I'm lying back for a triple. Whack!"

When the pictures had been snapped, Judge Jones "Bossy" said: "You've got to go to the county, surrounded by a coterie of admirers."

Where he went, nobody could disclose. He had no friends here. He had no friends here. He had no friends here.

HUNDREDS WATCH RAID IN BACK BAY RUM SHOP
Branded by Police Superintendent Crowley as the most lucrative bootlegging den in Boston, a Stuart st. shop, hardly a good store's throw from police headquarters, was raided today by a makeshift liquor squad that worked under the scrutiny of 1000 spectators.

The raid was ordered by Police Commissioner Whelan at a moment when matters pertaining to the regular squad of liquor raiders were in a hot and sorry state.

MEMORIES ALL THAT'S LEFT TO GILDA'S FIRST LOVE

Ashes and Dead Dreams

All Gilda Gray Left Him

"WITCH FIDDLE'S" HARMONY PULLS ON HIS HEARTSTRINGS
John Daniel Gorecki, first husband of Gilda Gray, the dancer and film star, isn't playing his old violin out in Milwaukee—but its harmony still haunts him while Gilda and her latest husband, Gil Roag, New York millionaire, hurl charges and counter charges at one another. Gorecki says the violin is a "witch"—that it parted him from his "Mary Anne," the name he calls her. Now, he hates the instrument—and he still loves Gilda.

"WITCH VIOLIN" WON AND LOST NOTED DANCER

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 22.—Mary Anne, Milwaukee—none other than the now famous Gilda Gray—fired into and out of the life of John Daniel Gorecki, but he still lives, in the memories of her sweet self when she was his bride. That's all he has left of her—those memories, but today they are his treasure.

Gorecki, the former husband of Gilda, has an old violin he never plays. It is an Ansoni of Italian workmanship, aged, mellow, and when it is an instrument for a master, yet John, who loves the melody of the violin, will never play it. In a torn leather case it is locked away in an old vault in his father's store.

"It is there I keep it," he said at the table in the White Eagle Cafe. "There that I shall keep it forever, when she is no more."

VIOLIN A WITCH

"It is not to protect my dream that I do this, nothing can tear that. I do it, perhaps, to punish the violin. The violin is a woman; a witch that brought Mary Anne to my arms, and then took her away."

His words were slow and careful, as if painfully projected into reality from a distant dream.

Gorecki is obviously a man who lives, not he knows, but by dreams. His life now is hardly more than a perpetual memory feeding on the Gilda Gray that was Mary Anne. He is a dancer in the choir of St. Joseph's Church—and his wife. Thus, without hope, he is a man without ambition. He is satisfied with little from life now. Generally speaking it means nothing to him.

ASSAULTS ROAG

John Gorecki says, his Mary Anne can do no wrong, and he calls Roag a scoundrel. Gorecki never sees Mary Anne except in the soft light of his memories.

WHITING CHOICE DISAPPOINTS HOOVER MEN

Washington, Aug. 22.—The appointment of William Fairfield Whiting, Holyoke, Mass., paper manufacturer, as Secretary of Commerce to succeed Herbert Hoover, has caused great disappointment in the Department of Commerce.

Walter P. Brown of Ohio, assistant to Secretary Hoover during the latter's tenure in office, was the man that it was believed would be appointed to the post by President Coolidge.

The Hoover organization in the department, one of the most important operating units in Government service, was behind Brown, and it was believed that the Ohio man, on account of his intimate knowledge of the department, would receive the appointment.

But word reached here of the President's choice for the office, practically no one in Washington had ever heard of the Holyoke man. There were a few officials who recalled that Whiting was an infrequent caller at the White House, where he would spend a day or two as a guest of the Coolidges.

TO COST ROGERS $500,000 TO AID FRED STONE

New York, Aug. 22 (AP).—Wm. Rogers, flying cowboy humorist, has come to the aid of another aviator, Fred Stone, at the cost of some $500,000 to himself.

Stone was crippled in an airplane crash just when he was to go into rehearsal for a new musical comedy show starring him and his daughter, Dorothy. Rogers offered to take his friend's place, Charles R. Hillingham, producer, accepted the offer.

Rogers will lose close to $500,000 in cancelled motion picture, feature writing, and personal appearance contracts, Hillingham said. Rogers telegraphed to Stone:

"If you don't want Dorothy to wait until you are entirely recovered, I will go into the show with her. Just to sort of plug along till you are able to rejoin, and I will do the best I can with your part. Dorothy can keep telling me how you would have played it."

"Dorothy, of course, would be the star, and I don't want any billing, anything you, Dorothy and Hillingham say goes with me."

EXPERT CALLS 'OUR GANG' FILM FINE PICTURE

"This will be a fine picture," said Frank G. Kilgus, movie director for Hal Roach, as he continued the work at Norumbega Park of filming the Boston Evening American's local "Our Gang" comedy. The making of the picture by the crew from Hollywood attracted another large crowd.

"The principals in the Boston Evening American's Gang are the most intelligent group of children I have had to work with in any city," he added. "This is especially true of four-year-old Henry A. Larsen of Brookline. He is a wonderful wheeler. It is likewise true of Paul R. Miller of Roxbury, the 'Freckles' of the Boston Gang, and Sylvia Jenkins of Roxbury, the 'Patsy' in a 'hooked' role. All of the Boston 'Gang' have done wonderfully well. They have quickly grasped every idea I have outlined to them. Only a few scenes had to be 'shot' over again."

"It wouldn't surprise me a bit if some of these kiddies had real and unorthodox ideas then as the result of what they have done. Please Turn to Page 18, Column 1."

NAKED INSANE MAN CHAINED IN HUT 11 YEARS

Fair Play, Col., Aug. 22—Colorado authorities are puzzled today as to what they shall do with Mrs. Joseph Beeler, aged woman, who for 11 years kept her insane son, naked and unkempt, chained up in a lonely log cabin that the family might not be degraded.

The son, now a man of 45 has been removed to a state asylum. There is a strong possibility that the mother may be removed to the same institution, for the authorities are convinced that no sane person could have confined even a madman as Mrs. Beeler kept her son imprisoned.

For years there have been stories throughout this section of a wild man being confined in a lonely cabin on the Beeler ranch. Sheriff Fred L. Richard of Park County finally made an investigation.

In the log hut, naked, filthy and half dead from long and unkempt, the sheriff found the madman chained to the wall. For eleven years he had lived in this state, his food being shoveled to him through a small door. There were no windows

Liquor Seized on Ship Used By U. S. Olympic Team

New York, Aug. 22 (AP)—

Four jugs and sixteen bottles of liquor were discovered aboard the President Roosevelt on which the United States Olympic athletes returned today. Customs officials said, inasmuch as the two persons in whose luggage the liquor was found were Frank Connelley and his wife, they will not be punished but the Holland gin which filled the jugs and the Scotch whiskey in the bottles was poured into the Hudson river from the pier. The names of the pair who brought the liquor were kept secret.

In the building and when the madman was taken into the sunlight he cowered and whimpered like a fear-stricken wild animal.

The insane man, years ago, had been confined to an asylum but was finally released. His mother explained that she was afraid he would be returned to the institution and would become a disgrace to the family, so for this reason he was kept in the cabin.

TRANSFEREES QUO SEQUITUR TO STAY

After listening to an informal appeal by Special Officer Oliver Garrett, in behalf of other special officers, Police Commissioner Herbert A. Wilson today announced that the transfers would stand.

Wilson further asserted that full cooperation had been agreed upon between him and Chairman M. J. Taggart of the board at a conference today.

This conference resulted from a charge by Sgt. Crowley that the licensing board was revoking suspensions of licenses made by the police after the latter's raids.

Wilson said that Boutigue had explained the case due to the fact that the police had arrested persons not the owners, lessees or holders of the licenses.

"In the future the police will make every effort to get the facts and the licensing board voluntarily agree to the transfer of men between the various units of the department operators for the benefit of police work."

Regarding the liquor squad, Officer Garrett came to me and reviewed the records of Officers Fortin and Foley, stating they had established a record for raids, arrests and convictions and, for this reason, should be retained on the squad.

I agreed with the record but informed him they are only patrolmen. Men have been moved before from the liquor squad and doubtless men will be transferred again.

I believe the transfer of men between the various units of the department operators for the benefit of police work."

His youthful romance, he says: "I went with Maryanna Mithabaki. She was just seventeen. She would sing ballads and I would play on the Amati. Her voice was good. She sang at St. Joseph's Church here. In the choir, she was a good girl. She loved my violin. She loved me."

"But after we were married then the bad influence of the Amati commenced. Each night it took me to the theatre away from Maryanna. Soon she was making her own company. Friends of mine who would encourage her to sing ballads—she had a good voice, they said. 'John, play a tune for Maryanna. It was my way, and I would play for my wife and she would sing. It was right that I should play for my wife—the woman for whom the Amati made the sweetest melody.'"

"Then came our parting. It was all over—but the memories."

MEXICAN REBELS AGAIN ATTACK AMERICAN MINES

Washington, Aug. 22—Mexican rebels have again attacked the mines of the American-owned Amaro Mining Company in the State of Jalisco in southwest Mexico, the State Department was informed by Edward P. Lavery, American consul at Guadalajara.

Charles W. Fair, American mine superintendent, was captured during the raid, but escaped unhurt, Lavery reports. He adds that most of the older Americans or British have been hurt in any way. Federal troops are on the scene, the report states, and have the situation well in hand.

CAMBRIDGE MAN HURT WHEN AUTO JACK SLIPS

John Brannigan, 22, of 27 Harvard st., Cambridge, was injured while repairing an automobile in the rear of his home, when a jack slipped and the automobile pinned him to the ground. A rear wheel caught his left knee and held him prisoner until the arrival of Patrolman Parker Murphy, who took him to Cambridge City Hospital. His knee cap was broken and he received other injuries.

TWELVE ARRESTED IN OREGON PLOT

Meades City, Aug. 22—The Mexican police announced the arrest of seven women and five men charged with implication in plots to kill President Calles and the late President-elect Oregon while visiting the town of Celaya last April.

KIDNAP PLEA OF MOTHER UP TO GOV. CASE

Pastoroket, R. I., Aug. 22—Whether or not the mother love of Mrs. Elsie M. Houston, Brookline, today rests in the hands of Governor Case.

The Brookline girl's two children, Frank and Elsie, were kidnapped from her Brookline home by her father, Frank T. Houston, from whom she is divorced, the dancer claims. She seeks to have her former husband returned to Brookline to answer the charges of kidnapping, that she may recover possession of the children.

The governor has heard all the testimony in the case and is expected to make his decision within the next twenty-four hours. Meanwhile the dancer's mother is remaining here in an effort to see the children who are at the home of their father's sister, Mrs. Frederick Johnson.

The Houstons were divorced at Chicago, May 2. On July 27, Houston brought the children to the home of her father, Frank T. Houston, Sr., on Highland ave., this city.

July 9 he was indicted in Brookline for kidnapping. He was taken here on a fugitive from justice charge which has been held over, pending outcome of application for his extradition.

Two officers who were sent to Cedar st. brought back the police said, Mrs. Elsie Houston, her mother, Mrs. Johnson, and Frank T. Houston, Sr., grandfather of the children and father of Mrs. Johnson.

"I was not trying to kidnap my children. I only wanted to see them," Mrs. Elsie Houston said.

The young mother left for New York. It is understood, to keep her professional dancing engagements.

But Mrs. Macdonald remained.

SET BACKFIRES TO SAVE ONLY WATERHED

Fighting fire with fire, 500 men centered on the brink of Devil Canyon today, had a fifty-fifty chance to save the city's vitally important watershed from the flames which for four days have swept the San Bernardino mountains.

Flowering to backfiring almost on the edge of the canyon, the men had a countermeasure, to keep the fire burning toward the advancing forest fire but a mile from the watershed district early today.

Cow, Hit by Lightning, Falls on Woman

Cato, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—Victim of a freak accident during a storm, Mrs. Joseph Lugo, 66, was in Auburn City Hospital today, suffering from the effects of a lightning bolt and because she had fallen from being crushed beneath a cow.

Mrs. Lugo was milking one of three cows in the barn of her farm when a lightning bolt struck the animal. The bolt passed across her clothing, leaving severe burns on her breast, face and arms, killed two other cows and two horses in adjoining stalls and set the barn afire. Mrs. Lugo was not hurt when the cow she was milking fell on her. She was rescued from the blazing barn by her husband and several workmen and taken to the hospital.

The fire resulted in loss estimated from $25,000 to $40,000.

Since halitosis never announces itself to the victim, you simply cannot know when you have it.

What kind of people do employers like to have around them? Certainly not people with halitosis (unpleasant breath). You can't blame a man for firing an employee with halitosis to hire one without it.

Don't fool yourself that you never have halitosis.

It's impossible for you to know when you are a victim. Don't take the chance. Keep yourself continually on the safe and polite side by daily rinsing the mouth with Listerine, the safe antiseptic.

'PLAGUE' WON'T DELAY SCHOOLS IN WATERTOWN

Following a conference with Dr. George H. Higginson, State Commissioner of public health, Dr. Robert C. Quirk, chairman of the Watertown Board of Health, announced today that the epidemic of influenza in that town will not delay the opening of the public schools there.

The schools are scheduled to open on September 11. The 50th case of the disease was reported in Watertown today. The victim is Mary Garafano, 6, of Linden st., who was sent to the Boston public hospital.

Fifty cases have been reported in Watertown to date.

The girls were taken in their room over one of the stories when the fire was discovered by Chief Lafayette. The officer, knowing there had been a room in the block, forced an entrance as the flames were breaking through the roof. Five of the girls were in their night clothes. The sixth, overcome by smoke, was carried out by Chief Lafayette.

The block, containing five hundred and thirty-two children, was destroyed with an estimated loss of $20,000.

'TOO LATE TO QUIT RACE' SAYS CANDIDATE CHOIATE

To the suggestion of Dwight L. Allison that the five G. O. P. candidates opposing Alton B. Cook for the nomination for auditor throw their support to one of their number chosen by a group of judges, Roland H. Choiate today declared that the time for withdrawal has passed.

Choiate characterized the suggestion as "landslide in purpose but futile in result." He reminded Allison that at the elimination gathering, he, Choiate, even after it was evident that at least two of the candidates were in no way offered to withdraw in favor of any one of the three continued to compete.

REVOKE 'GAS' LICENSE FOR SOMERVILLE STATION

A license granted by the Somerville board of aldermen to Louis Roth for a gasoline filling station in School st. was today revoked by State Fire Marshal George C. Neal. The decision follows a protest lodged with the marshal by John W. Colwell. The marshal found the license would be a source of annoyance to residents, would greatly increase danger to school children, tend to decrease property values and be against the welfare of the community.

TIEUP BLOCKS SUBWAY

A subway tieup caused long delay to many passengers today when a Haverhill-bound car became disabled on the loop at Park St. Although the car was towed away after five minutes, switches over the lines in and out of the subway were affected for a much longer period. As a result, the morning rush-hour and the trouble was over before the peak of the busy period was reached.

Washington, Aug. 22 (AP)—Seven enlisted men, who previously were awarded the navy cross for rescue work on sunken submarines, have been awarded a gold star in lieu of a second navy cross by Acting Secretary of the Navy Robinson for their salvage work on the submarine S-4.

Two other enlisted men were awarded the navy cross, one for service in Nicaragua with the Marines and the other for heroism in diving operations over the sinking of the submarine S-4.

JAPAN TO O. K. NAVAL PACT

London, Aug. 22 (AP)—Japan will agree, in principle, the agreement reached between England and France for limitation of naval armaments, according to an official dispatch from Tokyo today.

The foregoing dispatch indicated possibly that Japan might join with England and France in limiting naval armaments. Japan was a member of the Geneva conference called by President Coolidge last year when an effort was made to start the Washington naval agreement. That conference broke down.

It was expected the United States would try to arrange another meeting but the Anglo-French agreement was arranged in the meantime.

BASIC FACTS for the BUYER of a NEW AUTOMOBILE

- 1 Your present car has only one fundamental basis of value; i.e., what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.
- 2 Your present car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.
- 3 The largest allowance offered is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; sometimes it is not.
- 4 An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.
- 5 First judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance offered on your present car. Remember that you are making a purchase, not a sale.

SHOT DOWN AS HE FLEES FROM DRY RAIDERS

Chicago, Aug. 22.—Merle Adams, who gave his occupation as an insurance agent, was shot in the back by one of three prohibition agents riding a Loop building office where they sought members of an alleged liquor syndicate.

The syndicate, according to the prohibition department, had its headquarters on the eighth floor of the City Hall building. When three agents entered the office, Adams fled. He was shot in the back by one of the agents. Adams was taken to a hospital, but he died before he could be taken to a hospital.

City police who started an investigation said they were told to "get out" the same situation developed on the eighth floor of the City Hall building. A municipal court bailiff in March, the federal officers maintaining it was a Government matter and out of police jurisdiction.

Witnesses said Adams was chased by three men with pistols. Adams was shot in the back by one of the men. Adams was taken to a hospital, but he died before he could be taken to a hospital.

STULIZ CHIPS TO MARBLEHEAD

Winster Stuliz, pilot of the Friendship, famous transatlantic plane, arrived at Boston today in a Sikorsky amphibian in which he had flown Jack Whitney, son of Harry Payne Whitney of New York, to Marblehead.

In landing on Marblehead harbor the plane, equipped with two Wright whistling engines, struck a heavy wave and the left wing tip collapsed, crumpled.

Young Whitney, who had chartered the ship for the flight from New York to Marblehead, remained on the ship for the night. He was taken to a hospital, but he died before he could be taken to a hospital.

SAYS AIR DEFENSE ONE THING, OFFENSE ANOTHER

Wash., Aug. 22 (AP)—Major W. D. Harding, of New York, president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce, today declared Americans should not be misled by the recent cries of Lloyd Lindbergh, war promoter at Great Britain, for a reduction of aerial armaments.

"Limitation of aircraft for Europe in offensive warfare is one thing, but quite a different thing for defensive warfare in the United States," he said. "England is building up air forces. They are reaching London in a short time of darkness, and defense against them from the air requires the air armament of the United States."

TRAIN CUTS GIRL IN TWO: POLICE SCENT MURDER

New York, Aug. 22 (AP)—The body of an unidentified girl of about 20 was found today on the Long Island railroad main line in Richmond Hill, Brooklyn. The body was severed from above the waist.

Police are investigating to determine whether the girl was a suicide or had been murdered. The girl had light blue eyes, light brown hair, fair complexion and pretty features, police said. She wore a tan coat trimmed with fur, blue dress, flower-colored silk stockings, patent leather pumps with black heels.

Lord Proves Too Profane for S. P. C. A. Ladies

London, Aug. 22 (INS)—Ladies of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals were threatening today to demand the resignation of Lord Bambergh from the chairmanship unless he promises to use milder language when presiding at meetings.

Noted for the turbulence of its sessions, the society got into a row over voting its proxy. While Lord Bambergh, who is nearly 80, was reading a statement giving his views, a motion was adopted designating a "lady" to take his place as chairman.

It gave a jumping class to the riders of both sexes when 10 or 12 riders of both sexes were riding in the saddle. Some horses are easier to ride than others, and a well trained calm jumper handles an easier rider than a "wobbling" hand mounted one, apt to stop or to back.

MANY SPILLS IN RACE.

Although the class was won by the eminent rider, Young Slim, to my way of thinking it should have been won by "Tony" Shon.

Not only did his horse jump clean, but the rider's position was perfect. He was quiet but with such perfect control that he never touched the horse unkindly. He was not placed.

Of course we should always remember the judge is in a position to see things that escape the spectators. That he is motivated by many reasons in his decision.

The judge in this case, Mr. William Street, comes from a long list of sportsmen. His father owned and rode some great hunters. He was raised in an environment saturated with racing and hunting lore, and he himself, in spite of his youth, is one of our best gentlemen sportsmen.

As was to be expected in this hot summer class, made doubly so by the jumps to four feet two inches, there was quite a few falls. Fortunately no one was hurt. It was quite noisy, the men, many of whom come under the indignant heading of "amateurs."

GOOD HORSEMANSHIP.

The middle judge, Mr. Edward King, reversed many of the Colwyn's decisions. Mr. Chas. Herby, Lord Bambergh's second, was very good. He was a horse that goes down fearfully, today may perform wretchedly tomorrow.

One horse in particular, whose conduct was exemplary at Colwyn, was certainly a bad actor at Sella.

Mr. King is perhaps the greatest critic on equine subjects in America, and to him quality counts more than quantity. The horseman's class for riders was closed. It is quite possible in many classes that the girls make the best riders; when you find a good boy rider you'll find a good girl rider. Some true of course; also, and after all, good riding is a well-rounded sense of rhythm and time, as in dancing.

The two powerful jumping stables of Crowell and Lidgett continued their struggle for supremacy, both owners riding. Mr. Crowell's performance on the "Pouch Rabbit" was very fine. Ever show crumbers his technique. Miss Lidgett, of course, looks as though she had been born riding.

WINKS OF RHUBARB.

Miss Virginia Tolman's "Dorothy Stone," like her illustrious namesake, continued on her triumphant way, winning almost every class they showed her in. She won five Blue Ribbons, Miss Lidgett's Graceful Girl, somewhat of the same type with the model class, as she did at Cheltenham also.

It would have placed Mrs. Loring Van der Meer, she is a solid mare in every sense of the word.

Miss Ellen Harding was riding at her best. Those who are interested in jumpers should study this young girl's form; the way she collects her jumps, the way she gives them their heads. There are two exhibits in particular, who if they want to win with their good horses, must adopt her style of riding or get her to ride for them.

The ring is circular, and the going was a bit heavy. There was an outside jumping course. It is a question whether this is an addition to a show or the reverse. In many cases the horses are too far away to be seen by all the spectators, and it takes up a lot of valuable time. At Cheltenham it took almost three minutes to complete the course and one class had 40 entries.

WOMAN COUNCILLOR SAYS AUTO STORY IS UNTRUE

Mrs. Esther M. Andrews, of Brookline, only woman member of the Governor's Council, today took occasion to correct a widely circulated report that an automobile driven by her daughter injured Traffic Officer Robert J. McKeown at Washington and Park sts., Brookline, neither my daughter nor any other member of my family had any connection with the accident," she said. "False statements have been made that this was my daughter and that I have been coldly neglectful of the officer's condition. The story is entirely false."

GREATER HUB GIRLS ON FLIGHT TO NEW YORK

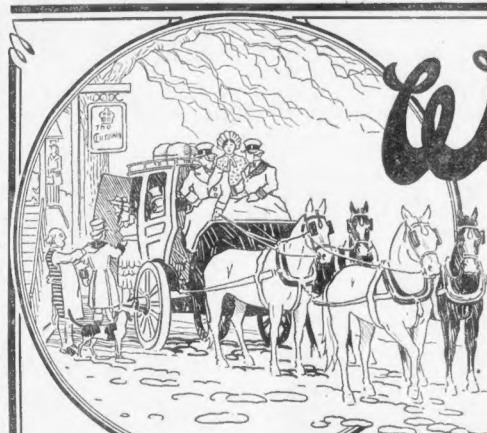

The new London amphibian plane of the Boston Airport Corporation, piloted by Operations Manager R. F. Brown, took off from the local airport for New York today with five passengers. They were Miss Elizabeth Wolcott, Lincoln st., Cambridge; Miss Signe G. Wilson of Franklin st., Quincy; J. Jackson (son of Winchester), with his son William J. Down, and Clayton Willis (son of Virginia).

Not a word was heard of the plane in Boston. If you ever stand to see your plane, but it is not. But the same legends are told in the Classified Ads.

Irene Castle Quits as Fashion Dictator

New York, Aug. 22 (INS)—Irene Castle MacLaughlin, who has been in France as a fashion dictator for a group of American women, returned to New York on the Ile de France today, disgusted with drifting and interested in her Chicago home for housework and nothing else.

"No woman can be a fashion dictator now," she complained. "They can only be advisers. Styles have changed too much and women change their minds too often. I believe the flapper type of young girls is going out, and the more stately type returning, but try and dictate fashions along that line—well, just try."

Woodland Tourney Gives the Golfers Chance to Develop Competitive Spirit

One of the most popular of the season's golf fixtures starts today at Woodland with the 18-hole qualifying round of the club's annual medal and match play tournament.

The field will number, for the first time, about 100 players and will consist of members, invited guests, and a certain number of amateurs. The prize money, which will be $100,000, will be divided among the winners.

It is not possible for a team to be entered in the tournament. The field will be divided into two groups, the medal and match play, and the winners of each will play off for the championship.

Woodland and Commonwealth are about the only clubs in the state that have a large number of members.

The tournament will be held on the Woodland Golf Course, which is one of the best in the state.

The first round will be played on Thursday, August 23, and the second round on Friday, August 24.

The tournament is open to all players, regardless of age or handicap.

Mr. Hornsby was asked to smoke each of the four leading brands, clearing his taste with coffee between smokes. Only one question was asked... "Which one do you like best?"

What gives OLD GOLD this winning charm?

Here is the answer, in three words... heart-leaf tobacco. No coarse, heavy top-leaves of the tobacco plant... for they irritate the throat. No withered ground-leaves... for they are lacking in aroma. Only the cool and fragrant heart-leaves... golden ripe... can give Old Golds their honey-like smoothness. That's why you can tell them in the dark.

RHYMING OPTIMIST

BY ALICE MICHAELS

Optimism is a state of mind. It is a way of looking at the world. It is a way of seeing the good in everything. It is a way of finding the silver lining in every cloud. It is a way of believing that the best is yet to come. It is a way of living that is full of hope and joy. It is a way of life that is worth the struggle.

What Matters Your Choice of Candidates If Your Name Is Not on the Voting List?

You may be earnestly of the opinion that the demonstrated administrative abilities of Herbert Hoover mark him as the man of the hour in American politics; that his eminent qualities of leadership are exactly those that should distinguish the man who would follow Calvin Coolidge in the White House.

And it may be that you announce this belief wherever you are, elucidating or maintaining your choice as the occasion and the company seem to require.

Or, it may be that it is your belief that the country and the people will be better off if the party in power should be given a vacation without pay for four years.

In a rough and ready debate, you may be able to cover yourself with glory upholding THAT end of the argument. What of it?

How much will YOUR opinion count unless it finds expression on Election day in a VOTE?

And how you are going to vote UNLESS YOUR NAME IS ON THE VOTING LIST?

Beginning at 6 o'clock this evening, and on the six weekday evenings which follow, election officers will be on duty until 10 p. m. in each of the 22 wards of Boston. Similar opportunities are being presented elsewhere, throughout the State.

These seven evenings present your final opportunity for registration. We are on the eve of one of the most important elections in the history of the country. You will want to take part in it. You SHOULD take part in it.

Take our advice and cut out the argument until you have made sure you are "on the list."

In the New North Station We Have Something to Crow About

A staid and dignified city nearly three hundred years old is not going to turn handspins in her own streets because the Boston & Maine Railroad has made her a present of a passenger station, but just between ourselves that is exactly what Dame Boston is moved to do as she walks through Canal Street and enters the new waiting-room.

The station is nearing completion. Much remains to be done. The auditorium, still most ineptly named, will be ready about November 15th.

All that we see, in a waiting-room with a seating capacity larger than that of Grand Central Terminal, is merely a promise, a pledge, of what is coming. It is enough to warrant these prefatory words of congratulation to Mr. Homer Loring, former Chairman of the Executive Committee; President George H. Hanauer, Chairman Thomas Perkins and all who have been associated with them in the magic which has been done in seven short months.

He Really DOES Read

And He KNOWS His Shakespeare

A SCHOLAR BOXER

Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion of the world retired, and leaving the field to others, recently lectured on Shakespeare, his life and works, before students of Yale University. He was invited by Professor Phelps, whose specialty is literature.

Many supposed that Tunney, like a majority of us, knew a few lines of Shakespeare, just as he might know a few quotations from the Talmud, a few verses of Moody and Sankey's hymns, and half a dozen maxims from Le Bon's "The Crowd."

But that isn't it, as you shall learn. TUNNEY REALLY HAS STUDIED SHAKESPEARE. AND KNOWS HIS WORKS.

This is how the facts came out: There was a luncheon given for Gene Tunney, who has just retired from the ring, and for Commander Richard Byrd.

BEING GREAT AND BEING ABLE

By DR. FRANK CRANE

WHEN Sir James Barry opens his mouth to speak he usually says something worth hearing.

The other day at the annual Rhodes dinner at Oxford he told the graduating scholars not to be great, but rather to aim to be able.

By greatness Mr. Barry meant, of course, being famous; a man who is really great is not always famous.

That is, conspicuous or high position or great wealth is not always synonymous with real greatness. Fortune and circumstance have often tossed a dunce into prominence and given to the mutton-head a great place. To be very able is safer. About all you get from that greatness which is prominence is that your name will be carefully sliced off and sold at Christie's. He whimsically called the graduate Brown, William K. Brown, and adds, "On my soul, Brown, I believe you would be wiser to stop short of greatness."

"The beginning of all you are to be, already lies inside you—a little spark that is to grow while you are asleep and while you are awake and that in the fulness of time is to be the making of you or destroy you. One hopes that you are leaving Oxford feeling, as the old saying has it, that red blood boils in your veins, that you hear a thousand nightingales, could eat all the elephants in Hindustan and pick your teeth with the spine of Strasbourg Cathedral. That's the spirit."

Every young person that is worth his salt aims to do great things in the world. The point is that he should aim toward the right kind of greatness. He should aim at the inner greatness, which is worth and ability, and not the outer, which is fame and great position.

Dr. Flexner spoke to the same end on the same occasion. He said:

"When in every civilized land we develop ministers, poets, scholars, musicians and artists numerous and powerful enough to outweigh the dunces, sometimes good, sometimes bad, of certain diplomats, certain business men and certain journalists; when we create fellowship at a level above that at which men struggle for their own petty ends, then at last the world may with some show of justification begin to speak of itself as civilized." The scholar knows no competition. He is aiming for truth and accomplishment.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

IT'S queer about people. Take any bunch of people you know. As far as you can see they're bad, but when you get to know them they are usually good. Yet most of them drift through life in a vague sort of way, without giving a thought to the future. Only one or two stand out strongly. Definitely. What's the matter? Hard luck? Bad heredity? Or does fate actually run our destinies?

Personally I think the success or failure of the average life depends on the HABITS OF THOUGHTS.

We form habits of thoughts when we are very young, but as we grow up we may change them. A child can be trained to be tidy, industrious, brave and careful in his physical habits. Or he may be trained to be the reverse.

The same thing applies to the mind. Some of us grow up with tidy, industrious, brave, careful, mental habits. Some parents make their children THINK THINGS THROUGH TO A LOGICAL CONCLUSION, but as they make them pick up their toys and leave them tidy. And others let them choose (almost just as they let them choose) between the two.

THE CHILD'S FUTURE LIFE IS DETERMINED BY THE QUALITY OF THOSE EARLY MENTAL HABITS.

MENTAL LOAFERS AND COWARDS CAN'T SUCCEED ANY MORE THAN PHYSICAL LOAFERS AND COWARDS.

If your thoughts are vague, aimless, indistinct, feeble, your life will be vague and feeble.

If your thoughts are definite, energetic, well rounded, your life will reflect these qualities.

If you think and in that way of prejudice, ignorance and intolerance, that he would not be blind allies. He will also not be blind allies. He will also not be blind allies.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—New city receives more encouragement for thrill 'hot' hunt. Its reckless spending is over a source of wonder to the fastidious—especially the French, trained to watch sous as Menou watches his moustache.

There are innumerable electric signs strutting the value of thrift and every bank window is adorned with compelling signs showing how even slight savings may be multiplied into old age independence. Many organizations have weekly lectures to expound the prudence of the wise.

There is a chain of banks that has a small electric sign, "Slight deposits? In each of its branches. The depositary is a revolving cylinder into which may be nudged bags of money accompanied by the passbook of the holder. Each depositor has a master key.

But department stores have their private savings institutions where a percentage of employees' savings may be deposited regularly and receive a fair interest. It is almost inevitable that when a man or woman on small salary saves the first thousand dollars, their thrift becomes a habit.

But New Yorkers are reluctant to make the first step. At a conference of young high-school men recently to pool their capital and to save as much as possible, one of the speakers was discovered to have a fortune in the city. He was a student in the city. He was a student in the city. He was a student in the city.

The percentage of salaries paid to the employees of the city is astounding. An authority has stated that William Johnston, a capable writer, man, once wrote an article called "The Policy of Thrift."

It was convincing and interesting. Yet the indolent habit of the city was hesitant to publish it. The writer pointed out that the city people come inevitable savings. That they have methodically, invest carefully, but eventually fall for a good rich idea and lose all.

THOSE who have been tossed out on the street, are, as the saying is, a little of wet wash by Jack's famous "flying wedge" of walkers.

At the luncheon, beside Gene Tunney and Commander Byrd, were, among others, C. V. Bob, who is one of Commander Byrd's strongest backers in the South Pole fight; Richard Boyd, of Hayden, Stone & Co., interested in all sorts of things worth while; Jack Whitely, son of the late Payne Whitney, a friend of Commander Byrd and an admirer of Tunney; John Oliver LaGrone, of the National Geographic Society; James Brush, of the Equitable Trust Company; Bernard F. Gimbel and Sam Pryor, Jr.

Tunney was congratulated on his wisdom in retiring, taking Old Time by the forelock, instead of allowing Old Time to take him, Mr. Tunney, by the back of the neck and throw him out of the game as Time always does.

Mr. Gimbel said to Tunney, "Your specialty is Shakespeare, Gene, you know, he says, 'Time hath, my Lord, a wallet at his back.' It's a good thing to remember that Time hath also a WALLOP, and always uses it when the time comes."

"Oh, yes," said Tunney, "I know that quotation well, it's from 'Troilus and Cressida,' and Tunney went on to complete the quotation. Look it up for yourself in Act III, Scene 3.

Some time when you meet Mr. Tunney with his literary friend, Thornton Wilder, on their walking tour through Italy, and north over the Alps, greet him with the familiar Shakespearean quotation you like, and he will finish the quotation for you, just as he did for Mr. Gimbel with his "Time hath, my Lord, a wallet at his back."

Mr. Tunney does not pretend to be an AUTHORITY. He is an intellectually interesting in important things—and that's the main point.

When he sailed for Europe this month it was Tunney's second trip abroad. He was asked, when he applied for his passport, "Have you had a passport to Europe previously?" Tunney replied: "No, when I went the last time I didn't need any passport."

That was the time when Tunney went over, as a fighter in the Marines, practiced boxing with other soldiers, and thus became the world's heavyweight champion.

Some of the low-brow sporting fraternity do not approve of Tunney. They think he is too high-brow. He may be, but he was not too high-brow to go over to France, take his share of the risk, and do his share of the fighting, while some of the low-brows more cautious, were hiding under the bed or safely teaching boxing "to our boys" in camps at home.
